This compact switcher gives you options to fit any streaming need. Stream directly to any common CDN by RTMP using the Ethernet port. Connect the USB-C as a webcam for use in any videoconferencing platform with no special software, or use it to record directly to USB. Multiview everything or view your program or any source on the HDMI Output. For even more utility from this tiny box, Chroma/Luma Keying features and robust audio DSP are available via the control software.
